

Nota

The Dawn of Hebrew Linguistics - The Book of Elegance of the Language of the Hebrews by Saadia Gaon

*Introduction and Critical Edition by Aron Dotan, Volume I:
Introduction, Volume II: Text and Translation, World Union of Jewish Studies, Jerusalem 1997. 668 pages.*

NASIR BASAL
Universidad de Tel Aviv

A

For more than a thousand years the composition of Rabbi Saadia Gaon (882-942), פְּצִיחַ לְגֹה אֶלְעִבְרָאֲנִיךְ (=The Book of Elegance of the Language of the Hebrews)¹ lay undisturbed. Then Harkavy discovered the main manuscript of the work in the Russian National Library in St. Petersburg (RNL),² and in 1898 he announced his discovery, mentioning the names of the

1 Below: Elegance.

2 Formerly known as the Saltykov-Šchedrin Public Library in Leningrad, Ms. II Firk., Evr.-arab. I., 3073.